U. S., Japan Put Treaty Into Force

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Argentina Wednesday called on the U. N. Security Council to brand Israel's actions in gaining custody of Adolf Eichmann a violation of national sovereignty.

Israel admitted illegality in whisking Eichmann from Argentina, but said his role under the Nazi regime in liquidating six million Jews justified such action.

The United States upheld the Argentine contention that her sovereignty was violated, but proposed that the Council go on record in expressing hope for a friendly settlement.

Senate Committee Okays Bill Hiking Minimum Wages

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to increase the minimum wage and to extend the wage-hour law benefits to about five million more workers won 12-2 approval Wednesday from the Senate Labor Committee.

The vote marked a milestone in wage-hour legislation in that it brought close to final Senate action a proposal which the committee has been working on for more than a year.

The bill would extend the law's coverage to employees of retail, service and laundry firms which do as much as one million dollars business a year. Small and medium-size enterprises in these fields would remain exempt.

The House Labor Committee last Thursday approved a similar, though somewhat less extensive bill. Democratic leaders of both House and Senate are pressing for enactment of minimum wage legislation before Congress adjourns, probably next month.

As the wage-hour law now stands, 23,700,000 workers are assured a minimum wage of $1 an hour, with overtime to be paid after 40 hours a week.

The Senate bill would raise the minimum for these workers to $1.15 next Jan. 1, to $1.20 on Jan. 1, 1962 and to $1.25 on Jan. 1, 1963.

Newly covered workers would take longer to reach the $1.25 rate. They would get $1 an hour the first year, $1.05 the second, $1.15 the third and $1.25 on Jan. 1, 1964.

The newcomers would get no guaranteed overtime the first year, but would get it after 44 hours the second year, after 42 hours the third and after 40 hours beginning Jan. 1, 1964.

It was estimated that 3,937,000 retail and service employees and 128,000 laundry workers would be brought under coverage by the Senate bill.

Others to be included: 100,000 local transit workers, 100,000 seamen, 41,000 telephone operators and 32,000 fish processing workers. The transit employees, seamen and fish processors would get the wage protection but not overtime benefits.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, following a carefully guarded secret plan, acted with unprecedented speed Wednesday night to put into force the new U. S.-Japanese security pact. The action came within hours after the Senate approved the treaty by a vote of 90-2.

The pact has been bitterly opposed in Tokyo by left-wing and Communist-led demonstrators whose violence caused cancellation of President Eisenhower's scheduled visit there last weekend. The rioters had been threatening to prevent the exchange of ratification in Tokyo which was necessary to bring the treaty into effect.

The exchange was completed Wednesday night, Washington time — Thursday morning Tokyo time — by Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II and Japanese Foreign Minister Aichiro Fujiyama in spite of the continuing protest, according to the determination of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

The ceremony took place in the heavily guarded official residence of the foreign minister.

When word of the action reached here in news dispatches from Tokyo, the State Department disclosed that the U. S. instrument of ratification had been signed by President Eisenhower in advance of his departure for the Far East 10 days ago and forwarded to Tokyo with space left for key dates to be filled in after the Senate acted. Senate approval of ratification was considered certain long before Wednesday's vote was taken.

In contrast to the anti-treaty riots in Japan, which led to cancellation of President Eisenhower's planned visit there, only Sens. Russell B. Long (D-La.) and Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) voted against it. Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) also announced himself as opposed. Seven other senators who did not vote announced themselves in favor of the pact.

Senate action—following 6½ hours of debate Tuesday night—came speedily after a flurry of Democratic attacks on the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign affairs.

Long made a last-ditch fight against the treaty itself; he called it the worst of the bilateral pacts this country has. Long said it binds the United States to defend Japan without Japan being obligated to defend this country outside of Japanese soil.

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the United States bound themselves Thursday in a new military alliance against communism with an exchange of ratification documents at the foreign minister's heavily guarded official residence.

A short time later Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi said in a statement that he has decided to resign his post. No date was mentioned.

The exchange makes immediately effective a new alliance linking Asia's most powerful economy with the West.

With the exchange one of the bitterest political fights in Japan passed through its climactic act but the issues raised in a month and three days of rioting undoubtedly haunt the alliance.

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen—largest of railroad operating unions—and the nation's railroads settled their 14-month-old wage dispute Wednesday.

The settlement calls for a 4 per cent—or 10.28 cents an hour—wage increase over a two-year period. This follows a pattern set earlier in railroads' agreements with the engineer and conductor unions.

The 107,000-member union had sought a 14 per cent increase in wages. The railroads countered with a proposal to decrease wages by 15 cents an hour.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The success of Wednesday's two-in-one satellite launching — the first such coup — assures that the United States will have an operating system of navigation satellites in 1962, Navy scientists said.

The two instrument-filled satellites—an experimental navigation aid vehicle and a smaller sphere to measure radiation—were lofted from Cape Canaveral, Fla., shortly after midnight. They streaked into orbit aboard a two-stage Air Force Thor-Able-Star rocket.

Solution To Problem

One of the major highways planned under the mammoth federal-interstate program is to be known as Interstate Route 80. It will extend from the George Washington Bridge in New York City to the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco.

Work is already under way on many of the not-yet-completed segments of this superhighway. The Stroudsburg Thruway is one small link in the overall picture.

There are others, chief among them being the $387,000,000 multi-lane expressway New Jersey is building between the George Washington Bridge and Delaware Water Gap.

This is scheduled to be completed within four or five years. Long before that, the new lower level of the George Washington Bridge will have been finished, increasing the span's capacity for handling traffic by 75 percent.

One phase of the project was completed last week when the last 60-foot section of steel was maneuvered into place. Seventy-six such sections have been installed and all that now remains is paving the six-lane framework.

A considerable portion of the extra traffic which the bridge and New Jersey's new expressway will accommodate will find its way to the Pocono Mountains and points west as far as San Francisco.

From Delaware Water Gap to Sharon in Western Pennsylvania, the traffic will travel over that portion of Interstate 80 which will be known as the Keystone Shortway.

Pennsylvania's Department of Highways is presently planning to complete the Shortway by 1970 or later. Apparently no real provision has been made to speed the work so that the Shortway will be finished in time to handle the extra flow of traffic to and from New York and New Jersey.

We feel strongly that steps should be taken now to find the ready cash the state says it needs to expedite the Shortway project.

One such proposal comes from State Sen. Z. H. Confair, president of the Keystone Shortway Assn., who has introduced a bill authorizing the State Highway and Bridge Authority to borrow 500 million dollars to speed construction of all federal - interstate highways planned for Pennsylvania.

We urge the Legislature to give careful thought to this suggestion and feel sure it will arrive at a formula which will allow the state to proceed with its highway building program without further delay.

Most people, who think of the families with the higher income bearing most of the tax load.

Individually, the rich people do pay a good chunk of taxes because the federal income tax is progressively higher, from one level to the next, and it reaches to the almost confiscatory rate of 91 percent on all over $200,000 for a taxpayer without dependents.

But, let's face facts. There are more of the people with the median incomes. Those, making from $2,000 to $8,000 and $10,000. Therefore, that group of people pay 70 percent of the nation's tax bill.

Next time you say, "sock the rich," in regard to taxes, just make up your mind that you are the one on which the tax burden will eventually fall—yes to the tune of 70 percent, whether you like it or not.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Who Pays The Tax?

There is one fallacy that we would like to clear up.

The belief is held by a majority of Americans that the wealthy people of this country pay most of the tax bills. That is why the cry has been sounded time and again, "sock the rich." Oh, how wrong is that line of thinking.

And we are going to submit hard, solid facts about taxes, and who pays them. More than four out of five families with annual income between $2,000 and $15,000 pay about 70 percent of the nation's tax bill. That is exactly seven-tenths of the entire tax bill, mind you.

The above median group in the national tax income is taxed at about the same effective rate of approximately 25 percent of their income. Thus, one out of every four dollars they earn goes toward the tax bill.

Now, the above fact will surprise

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Three Setbacks

Recently our country has encountered three major international setbacks:

1. Cuba;
2. The Paris Summit Conference;
3. President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

The State Department is the agency of our government responsible for formulating foreign policy, for evaluating data which come to it from many sources; for knowing in advance what events are likely to transpire.

The most important men in this mechanism are the deskmen, usually junior officials who are specialists in particular areas or matters and whose reports and memoranda eventually reach those who finalize policy.

The State Department is therefore the responsible body that must answer to Congress and to the American people for whatever errors, misinterpretations, incompetencies led to the disasters associated with the events.

If the men at the top are badly informed, it is the deskmen who passed on incorrect data. The alibi usually is that a man used his best judgment. If his judgment is no good, he should not hold that job.

First, the Cuban disaster. Our Ambassador to Cuba at the time that Fidel Castro seized power by revolutionary means was Earl E. T. Smith. When he was appointed to this office, he was briefed as to State Department policy by officials of the Department and Herbert L. Matthews of "The New York Times" who has had the reputation of favoring revolutionary groups in Spain and in Latin America.

Smith, who is a knowledgeable person, reported back to the State Department on the Communist characteristics of the Castro movement. His reports were ignored. Smith was retired because he was opposed to the extensive support given to Castro by the State Department which was principally responsible for putting Castro in power.

The personnel of the State Department responsible for the American policy in Cuba were Roy R. Rubottom, Jr., Assistant Secretary for Inter-American Affairs, and William A. Wieland, Director, Office of Caribbean and Mexican Affairs.

Second, prior to the holding of the Paris Summit Conference, I and others wrote that it would come to nothing. Therefore, it is not hindsight to say that there was ample information available to indicate that Khrushchev would have to find a way out of that meeting.

In fact various broadcasts from Moscow foretold failure. Nobody could have foretold that Khrushchev would have attacked Eisenhower with such brutality of language and manner but there was ample evidence in Russian, Red Chinese and other satellite literature to indicate the course of Russian action.

In charge of the desks in the State Department dealing with the Summit Conference and the President's trip to Russia were Hugh S. Cumming, Jr., Director of Intelligence and Research, T. Achilles Polyzoides, Director of Current Intelligence Indications, Charles E. Bohlen was Adviser on Russian Affairs, Edwin M. J. Kretzmann, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Domestic Affairs.

Third, the Eisenhower visit to Japan. I do not know enough about the current handling of the data from Red China and Japan in the State Department. Years ago, the Far Eastern Division in the State Department was one of the most competently organized and staffed.

The men were all Far Eastern trained, able and with a wide Far Eastern experience. When I knew this Division best, it was headed by Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck, an unusually able public servant. Walter S. Robertson, who recently retired, was a man of real ability.

It is impossible to believe that so great a storm could have been brewed in the Far East without some advance knowledge on the part of the State Department. What was done about it? What counter-measures were taken?

These questions need to be answered because faith in the efficiency and knowledge of the State Department is again disappearing in this country. When John Foster Dulles was Secretary of State, he restored the good name of that Department of government.

With the passing of Dulles, personnel and policy of the Department seem to have become very weak and both will be a campaign issue. Secretary of State Christian Herter has no war to hide behind. If his organization needs new personnel, he should find it; if it cannot formulate policy, he should resign.

When there is a failure, the responsibility for the failure must be fixed. As long as men in office can make mistakes without censure, errors will continue. Therefore Senator Fulbright, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, ought to have a public look at all this. The final responsibility is his.

The fourth public hearing on Stroud Township's proposed zoning ordinance and building code will be held next Wednesday night at the Court House.

The Planning Commission invites public participation so that the various provisions of the ordinance may be understood by all residents of the township.

A list of the questions asked most frequently about zoning and building codes has been compiled by Chairman H. G. Sanborn Jr. and submitted, together with answers, to The Daily Record for publication. The list follows:

Q. Does the zoning ordinance prevent me from enlarging a house I own but do not occupy?

A. If you are considering is-tablishing a boarding house and the property is in B-1, B-2, B-3 or I-1 the answer is "no".

If your property is in R-1, R-2, or R-3 there are limitations to the "use" of the property.

Q. Does the building code permit me to build my own home?

A. Yes! You are not compelled to employ a builder.

Q. Does the building code permit me to add a window or a door to an existing building?

A. Yes! But check with the building inspector and be sure you do not cut into a structural member that is carrying a heavy load.

Q. Can I paint my house and fence and add a run sash to the windows without taking out a permit?

A. Yes!

Q. Does the zoning ordinance prohibit one from opening a store if a business of the same nature is already established in the district?

A. No! The code does not give a monopoly to any one person, firm or corporation.

Q. If I wish to appeal from any portion of the zoning ordinance or building code do I have a place to state my case without hiring a lawyer?

A. Yes! A Board of Adjustment will hear your appeal.

Q. Does the Planning Commission fix the price of land?

A. No! The law of supply and demand has the greatest effect on land prices plus, of course, the willingness of parties at interest to deal.

Q. Why is it necessary to regulate the size of lots and houses in any district?

A. Because the population in rural, urban and suburban areas is increasing so rapidly that lack of control will soon destroy the appearance of Stroud Township. The "country" atmosphere is what makes the town so attractive to us who live here, and we do not want anyone entering we have and like so much. Reasonable controls for all new-comers and old-timers alike will preserve and increase property values, prevent health hazards from springing up and attract business, industry, tourists and people to our town to the benefit of all.

Q. If I want to add a carport or garage do I need to buy a building permit?

A. Yes! The cost of a permit is based on the cost of the job. For instance a car-port costing less than $1,000 is $7.50, a garage costing from $1,000 to $2,000 is $11; a $20,000 house requires a permit costing $66.50.

Q. What do I get for my building permit money?

A. Examination of your building and services by a competent person to point out weaknesses in construction or violations of the code; progressive examinations as the building goes up to make sure your builder complies with the code; this is for your safety, health and comfort.

Q. What is the estimated cost to administer and enforce the zoning ordinance and building code?

A. Experience elsewhere reveals that the building permits pay a substantial part of the cost. In Stroud, it is intended to employ three or four persons the first year, some of them on a part time basis. The work force will be increased only as the work load increases. As the work load increases more building permits will be required and these bring in income to carry on the department.

To equip the office about $3,000 will be needed. An additional $6,000 may be needed for office personnel.

Q. Does planning and zoning have an influence on our roads?

Q. Yes! Definitely for the good.

The Allen-Scott Report

Numbered Taxpayers

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson wants to give every taxpayer a serial number.

He is pressing Congress for legislation to do this in private talks with members of the tax-writing Finance Committee and House Ways and Means Committee.

Anderson, seeking action before Congress adjourns, is requesting a method of taxpayer identification patterned after the social security system.

His unannounced plan is designed to help the Internal Revenue Service collect billions in federal income taxes that are now going unreported every year.

Anderson is also offering the plan as the Administration's alternative to the dividend tax withholding plan being pushed in the Senate by a bloc of liberal Democrats headed by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D., Minn.).

Like the McCarthy plan, the immediate target of the new Anderson proposal is an estimated $5 billion in dividend and interest income that is now escaping taxation because of the failure of individual taxpayers to report this income in their tax returns.

Most recent Treasury study shows that $4 billion, or 50 percent, of the $8 billion of interest income earned in 1958 escaped taxation by not being reported; also that $1 billion of $9 billion paid out in dividends that same year went untaxed.

How It Works—In his backstage talks with members of the Senate Finance Committee, Anderson said that he was requesting specific legislation to put his plan into operation in order to win Congressional backing for the tax innovation and to make it more effective.

The President's chief fiscal officer pointed out that the government had sufficient authority to assign numbers now, but that additional legislation was needed to require banks and other financial institutions to report dividends and interest income to the Internal Revenue Service.

Under his proposal, he reported, banks would be required to list the income on cards carrying the taxpayers' number. These cards would then be forwarded to the nearest IRS office where they would be run through IBM machines that could indicate within seconds whether the income had been reported.

Committee members, while showing great interest in the plan, decided that the proposal needed more study. They approved a motion by Senator Harry Byrd (D., Va.), chairman, to have their staff explore the Anderson plan along with that of Senator McCarthy.

The House Ways and Means Committee decided to follow the same cautious approach. It is conjectured whether either committee will act before Congress adjourns.

Note: The chances are good that Secretary Anderson will remain in the Cabinet if Vice President Nixon is elected President next November. That's the report that aides of the Vice President are telling friends in the Senate.

Soviet Millionaires — Russia is fast increasing its number of "ruble-millionaires."

Latest statistics reveal that there are now more than 2,000 "ruble-millionaires" in Russia today. Before World War II there were less than five.

This development of a privileged class of wealthy people in the Soviet Union is highlighted in a report prepared by the State Department from recent Communist publications.

The official publication "Literature and Life" in which these figures were reported, attacked the "tendency toward private property" among members of what it called the "Dacha class."

The emergence of the rich goes back to the Stalin era, according to the report, when the directors of large state concerns and members of the so-called "Intelligentsia" were given high salaries. Later premiums and prizes such as the Lenin prize were introduced.

Engineers, artists, doctors, and lawyers won prizes which amounted to as much as 100,000 rubles.

Since Khrushchev became Premier, Army marshals, actors, and high party officials have joined the growing list of "ruble-millionaires," the report states.

The list will grow even larger, the report concludes, if Khrushchev goes through with his plan to abolish the 13 percent tax on income next January.

More Troubles—U. S. Agriculture Department officials, down from Secretary Benson on, are deeply alarmed about the long-range impact of commodity control plans being discussed by the new European Common Market. Their fears have been set forth in a still-secret document prepared and circulated by the Trade Policy Division of the Foreign Agricultural Service. It warns that "The Common Market is directed at self-sufficiency in Agriculture and not at free trade," and "the potential trade restrictions could reduce imports of major U. S. farm commodities to nothing more than a trickle." Last year the U. S. exported more than $215 million in feed grains and $89 million in tobacco to the Common Market nations that comprise France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

One of the most important aspects of sleep is that, despite the various activities going on throughout our bodies, most of our muscles are at rest.

That's why we generally feel so refreshed after a good night's sleep. We awake well rested even though things have been pretty busy on the inside.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Miss S. W.: What causes multiple boils on the skin?

Answer: Boils or furuncles are caused by the entrance of bacteria into the hair follicles of the skin.

The type of bacteria which usually causes this infection is known as the staphylococcus.

Good hygiene, with frequent washing of the skin, will often keep this condition from occurring.

Off The Record

By Robert Clark, City Editor

Neil and Jim Harmon, the bowling alley proprietors, will be celebrating their 20th year in the pin business during the 1960-61 season, starting this fall.

The East Stroudsburg maple woods establishment owners came to this territory in 1930 and in 1941 set up their place of business.

Jim is an old hand at the printing trade, having worked in many parts of the United States before finally settling down in the Poconos.

Bud Bossard, the former Stroudsburg High star basketball player, has just returned from a sojourn in West Virginia and Delaware.

Bud is rated one of the top experts in horses and will give anyone inside information on the won owners, trainers and jockeys of the nags which make the circuit in the nation.

Coon McCormack and his missus are going to take a holiday one of these days. However, the native of Plymouth is not making known his plans.

The Foxtown Hill residents would like a trip to the Shore but will settle for a few days in the obscure part of the Poconos.

Al Scavo, the barber by trade, will officially open his new resort near Tannersville this Saturday.

The Stroudsburg hair-clipper will unveil one of the most modern vacation spots in the Poconos.

For the past two years, Al has been readying his all-activities hideout which features a top swimming pool, boating and other extra-curricular programs.

Things I Never Knew 'Til Now (About the Far East)

Tokyo's Ginza has restaurants where you can get pizza, borscht, smorgasbord, even goulash (and raw fish, natch).

The Crescent (French cuisine) is the top restaurant. . . . Most bowling alleys in Manila have signs like these: "Deposit your fire arms with the manager!" . . . You can have a suit made in Hong Kong in less than 10 hours.

Tailors measure you at 8 a.m., have your first fitting before lunch, second fitting after lunch, then send you a complete and faultless job before dinner. . . . A bar in Osaka, Japan (the Ohio), features limp-wrist waiters. They're also called "rigger boys" and "pink boys" . . . In Siam if a man wants to indulge in concubines he has to maintain them in separate households. It's the "custom."

A sing-song gal in Hong Kong does exactly what the name suggests and nothing more. Her price: Usually about $1.50 an hour. . . . As for the natives of Taiwan, they usually have two of their front teeth pulled at the age of ten. It's considered chic. And those who have full sets are considered pretty square. (As low as dogs or monkeys).

Hong-Kong is really a viddy social place. An official directory lists 106 clubs, societies and associations. Ranging from the Jockey Club to the Chinese Club. . . . The most interesting? The Hong Kong Sunbathers Association, a nudist club. Dedicated to "the practice and popularization of mixed Sun, Air and Water Bathing entirely in the nude in suitable surroundings and of the Life in the Nude in the Home."

In Siam everyone is called by his first name. (Take it from Walter) . . . Even mail is addressed that way. (You figure it out) . . . The light silk dresses slit on both sides that the Chinese women wear in Hong Kong show thighs. (But cover the neck!) . . . Malaysians dislike eating in public, which is why you will find only one good Malaysian restaurant. (there are dozens of Chinese, Indian etc.) in the Malaysian capital. . . . It's almost impossible to locate a home in Tokyo. Not only aren't the streets named—but houses are numbered according to the order they were built. . . . You'll never see wilted vegetables in the markets of Hong Kong. The Chinese (who are the biggest customers) will eat only very fresh food. . . . What some other Chinese philosopher (besides Confucius) says: "A wife is sought for her virtue, a concubine for her beauty."

New Bell Dialing Gets Underway

CUSTOMER dialing of long distance calls from Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania coin phones began at 3:01 a.m. (EDT) today in Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap.

Budd Van Horn, Bell's local manager, said the service is the first of its type in the Bell System.

Known as coin toll dialing, it enables customers using coin phones served by the G.Rover and Hamilton central offices to dial station-to-station calls to points as far away as Philadelphia and New York City.

Van Horn also said the service is available from more than 335 coin telephones in the two communities and that it applies to calls for which the station-to-station day rate ranges from 15 to 50 cents.

Local calling methods remain unchanged, Van Horn pointed out, adding that the new program does not apply to Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap, N. J.

Instructions regarding the use of coin toll dialing are listed on page six of the new Pocono Mountains telephone directory. Copies of the directory were distributed Tuesday and yesterday.

Find Out
"If you reach a wrong number while dialing from a coin telephone, find out what city you have called," Van Horn explained. "After getting this information, hang up the receiver. Then again deposit a dime or two nickels to get dial tone. Dial the operator and your ten cents will be refunded. Tell the operator what happened to your call and she will then complete the call for you."

"If the called number is busy or has been changed or disconnected, no charge is made for the call and the deposit will be returned automatically," he added.

Van Horn said that since about 400,000 vacationers are expected in the Poconos this season, coin toll dialing should prove to be a convenience for many of the visitors.

In view of this, he added, the area will be very well suited for studying usage results of the new service.

In addition to New York City, other out-of-state communities that can be reached in the new program are Belvidere, Blairsburg, Branchville, Camden, Elizabeth, Jersey City, Milford, Morristown, New Brunswick, Newark, Newton, Orange, Passaic, Paterson and Phillipsburg, all in New Jersey.

Dialable communities in Pennsylvania, in addition to Philadelphia, include Allentown, Bangor, Bethlehem, Bushkill, Catsaqua, Cresco, Easton, Kingston, Mount Pocono, Pen Argyl, Saylorsburg, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

How It Works
Here's how coin dialing works:

To dial a long distance call, the customer deposits 10 cents to get dial tone. To call another point in the 717 numbering plan area (Stroudsburg, Delaware Water Gap and a large part of Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania), the customer simply dials the desired number.

For example, to call Scranton (area code 717) Diamond 6-4922, dial D-1-6-4-4-9-2 in order.

When dialing has been completed, an operator will come on the line (at this time the 10 cent deposit will be returned) and tell the caller how much money to deposit. When the proper amount is deposited, the called telephone will ring.

To call outside the 717 area, dial the three figure area code and then the desired telephone number.

For example, to call New York City Murray Hill 2-9970, dial 212 (area code for New York City) and then M-U-2-9-9-7-0.

At the end of the initial period, the operator will ask the caller to signal when the conversation is completed. The operator records the overtime and collects the money. On calls of 25 cents or less, the initial period is four minutes. On calls exceeding 25 cents, the period is three minutes.

If the called number is busy or has been changed or disconnected, no charge is made for the call and the deposit will be refunded automatically.

DDD EXPANSION—Effective early this morning, direct distance dialing from coin boxes in Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap to selected points in the United States became possible. Shown previewing the service with a call to the Associated Press in Philadelphia is Don Allen, Daily Record reporter, while Budd Van Horn, local manager for Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania, fills him in on details of the new service, expected to be especially popular with vacationists and tourists.

Bike Riders Are Warned By Local Police Chiefs

BIKE riders were warned to exercise caution and observe all traffic rules during the heavily-traveled three-day Fourth of July holiday by Police Chiefs Jack Tretheway and Travis Seese yesterday.

Chief Tretheway noted that all through streets would be heavily traveled and urged all cyclists to confine their cycling to less crowded secondary streets and roads during the peak traffic hours.

"Bike riders should make an effort to avoid heavily-traveled traffic arteries during the peak traffic load hours at all times," the Chief said, "and in particular should avoid primary traffic areas during this weekend."

The local police officials stated that bike riding has grown in popularity in recent years, and stressed the necessity of heeding all traffic rules and regulations on the part of the cyclists.

Obeys Rules
"A bike is a vehicle," he said, "and as such it is required to obey all traffic rules and regulations."

He said that riders should wear light-colored clothing at night, equip their bikes with the proper signalling and lighting equipment and be sure that their brakes are in good operating condition.

Chief Seese, of East Stroudsburg, reminded bike riders that bike riding enters its most intensive period during the summer school races and urged all bike owners to be sure their two-wheelers are in good mechanical condition for a summer of care-free riding fun.

Seese Adds Rules
Chief Seese added 12 rules for all bike riders to follow for safety, they are: 1. Observe all traffic regulations, signs and lights. 2. Keep to the right and ride single file. 3. For night riding, have a headlight and rear danger signal and also wear white or light colored clothing.

4. Have a workable horn and maintain a safe speed. 5. Watch for cars pulling into traffic and be careful of doors opening on parked cars. 6. Never hitch on other vehicles and do not race or do stunts in traffic.

7. Carry no passengers or objects which will interfere with your vision or proper control of the bike. 8. Keep your bicycle in perfect operating condition. 9. Stop, Look and Listen at all intersections. 10. Always use proper hand signals for turning and stopping.

11. Ride in a straight line, do not swerve or weave. 12. Avoid sidewalk riding, give the predestrains the right-of-way.

Cornerstone Laying At EUB Church

STROUDSBURG — A cornerstone laying at 3 p.m. Sunday will complete building of St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren Church here.

Officiating will be Dr. A. O. Hyden of Allentown, former conference superintendent, assisted by Rev. Warren A. Loesch, executive secretary of the board of missions of the North-eastern Conference, and local pastors.

Music will be furnished by the choir of Bethany EUB Church, Pen Artyl, and Salem EUB Church, Bangor.

The new building is the result of 15 months of work and planning since Jan. 29, 1959, when the old brick church was declared unsafe for services.

Original 1856

The original church was erected in 1856 and was an historical landmark for more than a century. The congregation traces its history back to 1800 when Jacob Albright held services at the Phillips home near Sciota.

The new building is a combination Church and Sunday School structure. There is a long foyer at the front of the building, and from the church, there is access to the church, the Sunday School, the rest rooms, the kitchen, and the basement furnace and storage room. The church is designed to seat 96 in the sanctuary and 24 in the choir, however, an overflow crowd of 200 or more can be accommodated with the use of folding curtains. The Sunday School will accommodate 120.

The altar wall is natural brick with a large cross lighted from the rear with fluorescent lights; the divided channel has a natural wood pulpit and lectern, with pews and pew screens also in natural wood. The interior walls of the church are natural birch, with the trim in blue, and crimson carpets in the aisles. There is a large window above the entrance with a cross dominating the window. The modern rose window above the altar was fashioned from glass taken from the windows of the old brick church. The use of plain glass in the building permits a magnificent view of the mountains and the surrounding fields and hills. The pews are cypress wood and the ends are oak. The cypress wood also came from the old church.

The front of the church is natural brick with cement block trim on the ends. There is a covered entrance for automobiles and a bell tower where the bell from the old building is hung. A parking lot for 50 cars is also finished and a large entrance drive invites worshippers to enter the grounds. The ceilings are natural cedar wood and the entire floor area is covered with asphalt tile.

Five Acres

The building is located on five acres of ground just above the old church site on route 115. The next step in the master plan calls for a parsonage to be erected next to the church when funds become available. The total cost of the project is $56,000. This represents a saving of $24,000 through modern design, donated labor, and use of available materials from the old church. Almost $15,000 has been raised in cash to date, with a goal of $20,000 cash by formal dedication on Nov. 13, 1960 when Bishop Kaebnick of Harrisburg will officiate. A membership goal of 200 has been set from the present to Easter 1961. The pastor, the Rev. Harold L. Ulmer is in his 10th year as pastor of the church. He also serves Ackermanville, another very rapidly growing mission church. The public is cordially invited to attend the service.

Birch Leaf Miner More Serious Now Than Before

By George Abraham

BIRCH PROBLEMS: For some reason the Birch leaf miner has been more serious this year than before. This is the pest that eats the green part of the leaves, causing the foliage to curl, become paper-thin and die. Actually, to lick this pest you should spray the trees every 10 days, with Lindane, starting in late May and continuing up into early July. A second generation of leaf miners appears in late June and early July, so you might be able to do some good by spraying now. Spray the entire tree, and as a further precautionary measure, write a note on your calendar, reminding you to start spraying your birches in late May of next year. Chances are, if your tree has a few miners now, it'll have more next year, and you should be prepared to spray. It's too late now for effective control now.

Ground Covers

There's been a renewed interest in ground covers for different areas, but gardeners should keep one point in mind: Ground covers are not a cure-all for problem spots. Grass is still the most universal ground cover and is the easiest to maintain. Steep slopes, heavily-shaded spots, poor soils are places where non-grass ground covers are used. Some of the best herbaceous low-growing ground cover plants are bugleweed, plantain lily, ground ivy, sedum, all tolerating shade. Bugleweed, pink, peppermint, moss pink, and violets will do well in sunny locations. English ivy, drooping leucothoe, pachysandra, and periwinkle are among the better woody ground covers, tolerating shade. Rockspray cotoneaster, wintercreeper, creeping juniper, Memorial rose, and periwinkle do well in sunny spots. Whichever ground cover you select, you'll have to give it as much care as you would your lawn or other plantings for maximum beauty.

Week's Mulch

If a utility company or tree men chop up tree limbs and offer to give you the chips, take them. They make a good mulch around trees, evergreens, roses and other plants. Chips are slow to break down, do not blow in the wind and make a good conditioner. You might object to their coarse appearance, but if this bothers you, scatter a little peat over them and you'll hide their coarseness. Next week: How good is a straw mulch?

Powdery Mildew

Roses, lilacs and other ornamentals are subject to powdery mildew fungus. If you've tried all cures with no success, then try one of the antibiotics, Actidione. This comes in a small package and can be used at the rate of one small pack (it contains .67 oz.) to 30 gals. of water. This is sprayed on the ground and on the leaves of the plants.

Father Butler K Of C Elects Officers For Year

FATHER Butler Council No. 4084, Knights of Columbus, elected new officers during its regular meeting Monday night. Officers are: Tony Archer, grand knight, and Joseph Dane, deputy grand knight. Bernard Francis is chancellor; Charles Dellaria, recorder; John Sullivan, treasurer; Joseph McCluskey, advocate, and Ed Yost, warden.

The Council thanked the following committee for its success: Joe Dane, Joe O'Donnell, Jim Ogden, Ed Yost, Frank Owens, Fred Swenson, Guy Nicholas, John Kupiec, John Sweeney, Andy LeBar, Bob Davenport, Tony Archer, Marty Kearney, Bill Adelmann and the Columbian Squires Circle.

Father Esseff, before saying the final prayer, thanked outgoing Grand Knight John Kupiec and other past officers and also congratulated the new officers of the council.

Question Box

QUESTION of the Week C.F. of Stroudsburg: "I'm sending you leaves of my maple trees. They had the disease on last year, and now the same thing is happening again this year. Will it kill the tree?"

Your maples have the maple gall mite. The pimple-like growths or swellings are the galls, the result of abnormal growth of leaf tissue, due to the feeding punctures of the microscopic mites. There are several types of galls, such as round ones you see on the leaves of silver maple (soft maple). Then there is the maple spindle gall mite, causing small spindle-shaped galls on the upper surface of the silver maple, and sugar maple foliage. There's one causing glossy, crimson colored felt-like patches composed of numerous tiny galls and leaf hairs on the upper surface of sugar maple.

Control

First, remember that these gall mites' work looks worse than it really is. When very abundant the mites cause some leaves to turn yellow and drop prematurely. Ordinarily, however, the galls cause very little harm. If you want to spray, do so early in April, before the leaf buds start to open, just after or during the blossoming period. Lime-sulfur, 1 pint to a gallon of water will do the trick.

G.B. of Gilbert: "If your item on climbing peaches had appeared sooner in our paper, and if I hadn't been so gullible, I wouldn't be the sucker that I am. Last week I received 2 of the so-called climbing peaches I'd ordered, and they were limp, with plants, about 2 inches high. They refused to revive and grow for me. I returned them and requested my money back, but so far I haven't heard from the firm. I should think the government would clamp down on such fraudulent firms. We appreciate what you and your paper has done to guide us."

We make every effort to steer our readers when it comes to buying products. Sometimes some unscrupulous firms will advertise some newfangled item before it comes to our attention, but we make every effort to test these products and pass our findings on to you. Meanwhile, every gardener should not bite on new products until State colleges and other responsible institutions can pass on them.

C.E. of Wilson: "Our country home has a well that is tainted with sulfur. Is it alright to use this on our flowers and vegetables?"

Sulfur water won't harm them a bit. Temperature of water makes no difference either. Cold well water can be used on a hot day without any harmful results. It can be applied during hot sun or on cloudy days without harm.

Accidental Death Rise In Keystone

THE INCREASE in accidental deaths and injuries resulting from excavation cave ins in Pennsylvania in recent months has been alarming, the Department of Labor and Industry said yesterday.

Secretary of Labor and Industry William L. Batt, Jr., has ordered an immediate study of the problem by the Department's Bureau of Inspection, with new regulations in prospect.

The Department has prosecuted eight construction firms since January 1st this year for negligence in excavating and ditching resulting in fatal accidents, Mr. Batt said. In all of 1959, there was only one prosecution for the same offense.

Distributes Rules

Batt said that the Bureau of Inspection distributes rules for excavating and ditching to any contractors desiring them. They specify that ditches and excavations four or more feet in depth must have shoring and bracing. This is one of the most commonly violated regulations covered by the sixteen-page free printed pamphlet.

A three-page typewritten digest of the rules is also available without cost.

Batt has asked the Bureau of Inspection's advice as to whether advance notice of all excavations should be made mandatory.

Advance notice of all demolition work in the state is presently required by the Bureau of Inspection under the General Safety Law, Section 2 F. Advance

Peterson Set For ROTC Drill

JAN R. PETERSON, East Stroudsburg RD 3, has been assigned to Ft. George G. Meade, Md., where he will participate in the ROTC summer training program, Colonel Lewis T. Martin, commanding officer of the Bucknell University Unit, announced today.

Peterson, who was graduated recently from the college, is among 87 cadets from the college engaged in the advanced summer training program which runs from June 18 through July 30.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Peterson, he received the degree of bachelor of science in electrical engineering, and will be eligible for a commission as a second lieutenant in the Army following the successful completion of the advanced summer training program.

notice of excavating and ditching would probably come under the same provisions.

The Bureau of Inspection is expected to report its findings and recommendations to Secretary Batt before mid-July.

Stroudsburg Eagles Hold Semi-Monthly Meeting

SECOND semi-monthly meeting of Stroudsburg F.O.E. No. 1106 was held Monday night in the lodge building.

John Leathers, president, presided. The pledge of allegiance was given by the 76 members in attendance. Initiation of two new members was held.

Ernie Ridgeway, membership chairman, asked that all members work hard to meet the monthly quota of eight new members to the lodge.

Membership Fete

Team captains, winning team, and all members who secured three new members during the past year will hold their annual membership banquet next Tuesday at Bartonville Hotel.

A report of State Convention held in Pittsburgh was given by president Leathers. Ted Brewer, Chaleroi, Pa., was elected state president, it was reported.

In other business, president Leathers appointed his committees for the year and treasurer, Rod Kitchen, gave the monthly financial report.

AC Of A Workers Go On Strike

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Some 1,200 hourly workers at the Aluminum Company of America plant in nearby Cressona are on strike.

A new contract had been approved last week by the executive committee of the local Aluminum Workers of America Union, but the membership voted the pact down and struck Tuesday night.

A company spokesman said the main point at issue was elimination of duplications in jobs in two departments.

State mediators met Wednesday with both company and union representatives.

PRR Reports Income Dip

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday reported net income for the first five months of this year of $694,866 compared with $2,248,446 for the same period last year. The railroad reported net earnings of $1,506,300 for last month as against $4,512,912 for May, 1959. The firm said the report reflected higher industrial activity in the spring of last year particularly in the steel and steel consuming industries.

DL&W Sets Up Plan To Save Rails

IF YOU should see a "FOR SALE" or "FOR LEASE" sign on Lackawanna railroad stations tomorrow, it does not mean that the railroad is going out of business.

It just means that the Lackawanna is going into business to help keep the railroad operating.

This statement was made today by Perry M. Shoemaker, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, as he announced that the railroad will sell or lease some 400 pieces of surplus real estate to convert about $10,000,000 worth of dormant assets into revenue.

Most of the Lackawanna's railroad stations from Hoboken, N. J., to Buffalo, New York, will be developed commercially so that business will be conducted while the stations will continue to be used for railroad purposes.

Series Of Studies
The real estate development program, Shoemaker said, is one result of a series of studies being conducted by the railroad during the past year seeking to improve its financial position.

Mr. Shoemaker said that in addition to providing needed revenue for the Lackawanna, the sale or lease of available properties will help to reduce the railroad's real estate tax burden, will reduce maintenance costs and will provide areas for commercial development.

"The Lackawanna railroad," Mr. Shoemaker said, "has and will continue to exert every means at the disposal of progressive management to improve the position of the railroad."

41 Boys Inked For 'Y' Camp

FORTY-ONE boys have signed up for the first period of the Monroe County YMCA Day Camp. The period begins on Tuesday, July 5, and continues until July 15.

The group will be the first to use the newly purchased 66-passenger bus which will transport the campers from the Stroudsburg YMCA to Saylor Lake each camping day.

The camp, this year, will have five full-time experienced adult leaders and four junior counselors directing the program.

The adults are Robert E. Wilson, Jack Chapman, Karl Yost, John Hubert, all from the 1959 season, and Earl Ammerman who has been added this year because of his exceptional skill in woodcraft and nature study. Junior Counselors are Stan Terleski, Bill Hickey, Ronnie Zehner and John Nebel.

In addition to the added program of nature study for this year another and equally interesting activity will be "sailing." A sail boat has been purchased and will be launched on the lake for use of the campers and will be under strict supervision of one of the adult leaders.

Many boys at the "Y" Day Camp will have an opportunity to add to their education along this line during the summer.

Catechism Classes Are Taking On Sprightly Appeal

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, Associated Press Religion Writer

CATECHISM classes, long regarded as a trying affair by many a Catholic child, today are taking on sprightly appeal.

The kids even enjoy them. In a growing number of cases, the traditionally stiff theological indoctrination sessions are being made less difficult and more dramatic as a result of a 10-year project completed last week.

"It's absolutely sensational," says the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John P. Wodarski, of Hartford, Conn. "It's a dream come true."

It provides means for the staid old question-and-answer method of instilling church concepts to be enlivened with pointed vignettes and modern-life situations, geared to a child's ordinary associations.

The new series is called the St. John's catechism.

Its completion, involving the work of 24 church scholars and specialists and costing $300,000 over the last decade, came in the 75th anniversary year of the familiar Baltimore catechism.

The Baltimore catechism, first published in 1885, is the standard question-and-answer text on doctrine used in Catholic schools throughout the country.

Its content, setting forth church teachings about God, the creation, the Redemption, the Sacraments and the Commandments, is covered in the new catechism—but in the form of stories, illustrations and analogies.

Philosophy

"It's not a series of Bible stories, but genuine philosophy and theology for children," says the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles M. Walsh, of New York. "It translates doctrine clearly and memorably in terms of everyday life."

Portions of the new catechism, including altogether 30 film strips of 10 minutes each along with recorded voices and sound effects, already are in use in 10,000 of the church's 17,000 parishes.

Some adult classes also are using parts of it. So are a number of Protestant churches. Foreign language versions also are being turned out.

"It already has revolutionized the whole approach," says Msgr. Walsh, one of several diocesan doctrinal experts serving as advisors on the project.

Others, besides Msgr. Wodarski, include: The Very Rev. Msgr. Lawrence W. Lynch, of Chicago; the Rev. David J. Coffey, of Providence, R.I., and the Rev. Thomas Savage, of Manchester, N.H.

Scripts for the catechism were written by the Rev. Philip E. Dion, of Emmitsburg, Md., and the Rev. Lawrence A. Loneragan, of St. John's, who also supervised the art work, Vincent Colabella, of Yonkers, N.Y., did the color drawings.

Sponsored by St. John's, the new catechism is not intended to replace the Baltimore catechism, but to supplement it, and add interest and clarity to the more formalized and difficult statements of belief.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Over England: Did you ever try to sleep in an orchid? It gets a little awkward — particularly when you're trying to sleep in a jet. Even when the jet is purring along like a kitten six miles above the Atlantic over a cloud cover that reached all the way from the Poconos to Ireland.

There isn't too much legroom and the bump in the top of the seat back is meant to fit the neck of a tall man and hits a short woman just at an angle to keep her head bowed as if in prayer. But of course the greatest detriment to sleep was excitement.

That orchid had wafted me triumphantly through the weighing-in of the baggage which weighed 43 pounds on the bathroom scales at home but which gained pounds with every mile we got to the weigh-in station. It didn't even quiver through the thrill of the take-off through the rain and fog at Idlewild into the clear sky above, with the sun setting above the clouds somewhere over the Poconos.

The orchid made a gala occasion of the late supper on the plane and through the growing glory of the moonrise which turned the clouds into an enchanted landscape of silver forested hills.

But when the passengers started turning out the lights about 11 p.m., it was hard enough to close your eyes without being distracted by snoring into an orchid. The orchid finally ended up pinned to the back of the seat ahead, and I ended up watching the wing tip sailing through the sky.

But not for long. At 1:15 our time, the sun came up and everybody else woke up and we were having breakfast at 1:30 in the morning, except it was 6:30 in London and we were preparing to land.

Both the orchid and I looked more than a little worse for wear but we made it triumphantly. England, patterned with fields and hedgerows like a patchwork quilt with feather stitching, was waiting to welcome us.

The Wyckoff Shopper

As usual, I do not know where to begin in expressing my thanks to so many of you who must have gone to a great deal of trouble to locate May 31st Shopper columns for me. Before ten o'clock, I was well on my way to being buried by columns—and I didn't refuse any, because I have use for just as many as I could get, for files of one kind and another. They were left with the switchboard operator, with various Wyckoff employees, on my desk, and are still arriving today by mail. Only a few complete newspapers arrived, and one of these has been given The Daily Record.

While I do not know the names of many who were so thoughtful, these are a few I do know, and whom I can extend personal thanks: Mrs. Vernon Imbt ... Mrs. Kurt Phillipsberg ... Mrs. Robert Widmer ... Mrs. Emma Pugh ... Alice M. Yetter ... Mrs. H. C. Cryder ... Mrs. Plattenberg ... Mrs. Gerlinger of Swiftwater ... A Friend from Mount Pocono (others came from there too) ... P. A. Fogarty ... and Mrs. Nelson A. Frantz, widow of my first employer, then publisher of The Daily Record. Again, thanks!

JOTS ... and DOTS ALL—

Ency Schick, who returns each summer when college closes to join the staff of the Daily Record, has one problem. I should like to have, and another that I share. The first is looking younger with each passing year. At Ency's age this is too bad—for she's at the stage when "being older" still has its charms. The other is that no one spells her name correctly. Either they falter over Ency or omit the "e" from Schick. In my case, it's the "Madalyn" that floors everyone, or else they change Maloney to Mahoney. (Some even make it BALONEY!) Oh well ... what would life be without problems! ... A very welcome note in answer to one from me, arrives from Mrs. Angelo Vianello, who is much improved after a tedious illness. We miss seeing her around our store, but we're happy to greet son Mike, a Lehigh student, on a recent Saturday visit ... Artist Edna Linker of Philadelphia was a visitor to my office the other day, and bubbling over with enthusiasm for her projected summer near Wallenpaupack. Mrs. Linker's work has been shown extensively in her home city, and she was also represented in last January's Wyckoff show ... "Buz" Brown, a representative of Jantzen, reminds me that his company manufacturers and excellent line of foundation wear and bras, some styles of which are particularly adapted to wear under beach and swim attire. Many Jantzen suits are, of course, made with the built-in French cups which contour the bustline. If, heaven forbid, your suit is not a Jantzen, or if you need a bra for wear beneath a strapless dress, you can buy a Jantzen bra with French cups which can be stitched right into the seams. For this bit of flattering deception, talk with Bety Colvin in our Wyckoff corset department ... Mrs. Earl Thomas, publicity chairman for the fashion show being sponsored Friday (tomorrow) evening at Buck Hill by the Barrett Community Club, telephones to remind me that it will be a particularly lovely event, and EVERYONE is invited. I have seen some of these shows in the past, and will vouch that they are indeed NOT to be missed. Also proceeds go to a very worthy cause, so plan to attend.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, June 23, 1960
 March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—What you begin, finish with equal enthusiasm. Often the most success is achieved when one never lets down his guard nor becomes lax in incentive. Choice benefits await the star.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Fine for keeping one's words and opinions in the right affairs. Success may be precious now, so don't break it and find some truth out later to your regret.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Note how it went when you attempted certain matter a certain way if you consider doing it again. Were there errors you could have avoided? Industry, tact, integrity, patience attain.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Better search within one's self for why and wherefore to look first at others with critical eye. Hold the tedious chores to be as worthy as show jobs.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Some interesting data may come your way. Be careful how you interpret it, and whether it should be passed on. Ask assistance where it could help, but delegate to no one your duties.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Note Cancer today's aspect, ask similar treatment. Wish well for all; good feeling permeates even difficult spots. More advantages if you seek them.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Line above the petty, as your nature usually does; reach for that tall accomplishment. It may not be as hard to gain in some daily matters. You can produce top results.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Over a long period of time we often let things slip, we falter. An opportune time now for checking.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP) — Congo national leader Joseph Kasavubu said yesterday he has formed a coalition government.

The Congolese leader, in reply to a question, said so far his government has produced no program, but his Cabinet seems likely to be acceptable to the Belgian government.

Vet Mulloy Moves Up In Net Play

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Gardner Mulloy laughed in the face of father time Wednesday by advancing into the third round of the Wimbledon men's singles tennis championship along with three fellow Americans.

The 46-year-old Miami veteran drubbed Britain's top-ranking Mike Davies 6-3, 6-3, 6-4 in a center court battle of two tennis generations.

Mulloy — his crew cut hair now a battleship gray—called on the craft and skill gained in more than a quarter of a century of competition. Davies, 24 and strong as a young lion, chased from corner to corner, strained for volleys just beyond the reach of his racket and sometimes shook his head in wonder as Mulloy sent over a smoking drive of remarkable power.

From an American point of view this victory by Mulloy was the brightest spot in a day which saw the nine first round survivors from the United States reduced to four. Eighteen Yanks began play Monday.

Other Yank Winners
The American winners in addition to Mulloy:

Earl (Butch) Bucholz of St. Louis defeated John Cranston, a Marine from San Marino, Calif., 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., outlasted Reino Nyssönen of Finland 6-3, 6-3, 6-8, 8-6.

Second-seeded Barry MacKay of Dayton eliminated Adrian Kay of Rhodesia 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

First-seeded Neale Fraser of Australia beat Dutchman Willem Maris 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

The American victories hardly made up for these heavy losses.

Third-seeded Rod Laver of Australia swamped Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Jan-Erik Lundquist, a blond Swedish slugger, ousted Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., 6-4, 6-1, 9-7. Ralston is the U.S. junior champion.

Big Jean Grinda of France toyed with Mal Fox of Baltimore 6-0, 6-1, 6-2.

Pierre Darmon of France defeated Charles McKinley of St. Louis, 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 4-6, 6-1.

The gloomy American picture was relieved by Janet Hopps of Seattle. In one of the few second round women's matches of the day Miss Hopps surprised Suzy Kormoczy, a 38-year-old Budapest housewife, 6-3, 3-6, 9-7.

First Seed To Fall
Mrs. Kormoczy, the sixth seed, was the first seeded player to fall in either the men's or women's singles.

Karen Hantze, of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knodel, of Panama City, also gained the third round.

Miss Hantze, 17, required less than 30 minutes to beat Mrs. A.H. Thomas of Britain, 6-1, 6-2. Mrs. Knodel, formerly of New York, didn't need much more time to eliminate Mrs. Laura Lou Bryan of Tampa, Fla., 6-2, 6-2.

Massachusetts Race Victor

BOSTON (AP)—Talent Show, getting a heady ride from jockey Ray Broussard, swept from the third position on the near turn and hurried to a length and a half victory Wednesday in the 26th running of the $50,000 added Massachusetts Handicap.

The heavily favored First Landing, under the whip of Willie Shoemaker, finished fourth in the seven-horse field competing for New England's richest race over a mile and a quarter at Suffolk Downs.

Battle Neck, a 60-1 shot, took the lead in the start, and held it until Broussard brought his mount in front at about the three-eighth pole.

Talent Show moved in front on the outside at the turn, took the lead and held it against the challenge of the local entry, Polyad.

Polyad Second
Polyad finished second, beating Battle Neck by three quarters of a length. Battle Neck held off another stretch challenge by First Landing and jockey Willie Shoemaker, taking the 5-3 favorite by a nose.

With the betting heavy on First Landing, Talent Show, which was a 5-2 choice with the crowd of 21,845, returned $7.40, $6.40 and $8.40. Polyad paid $6.60 and $7.80 and Battle Neck returned a whopping $19.60 to show.

Palmer, Snead Shake Foes With Sub-Par Exhibition

PORTSMOUTH, Ireland (AP)—America's favored Sam Snead and Arnold Palmer shook their rivals and haughty Portmarnock with a dazzling sub-par exhibition Wednesday in a final tuneup for Thursday's opening of the International Canada Cup Golf Match.

Teamed for the first time, Snead fired a 65, seven-under-par, and Palmer a 66 in a best ball blood battle with England's Bernard Hunt and Harry Weetman. The Americans won 2-up. Hunt had a 67 and Weetman a 68.

Together they had a best ball of 61, eleven under par for the 7,093 yard, Seaside Portmarnock links, and staggered legal bookmakers who began revising odds which had made the Yanks 2-1 favorites.

The four-day, 72-hole tournament features hand-picked, two-man professional teams from 30 nations.

U. S. Favored
On the strength of Palmer's Masters and U.S. Open victories this year and Snead's long time record of golfing brilliance the Americans have been established firm 2-1 favorite to wrest the team title from the defending champion Australians, Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle.

However, one bookie said the odds may drop to even money by tee off time. Several bookies said they had quit taking bets on the individual competition in which Palmer is strongly favored over Australia's Thomson, the four-time British Open champion.

The Australians are first off the tee playing with Japan's Koichi Ono and Sukemasa Shmura. The Americans go off with the crack Welsh tandem of Dai Rees and Dave Thomas.

Aussies 2nd Choice
Australia is second choice at 4-1 followed by England-Ireland and South Africa at 7-1. Wales is 12-1 to make the eighth fairway world series a runaway although Peter Thomson was still confident these preliminary rounds are shadow boxing.

A gallery of some 2,000 watched as Snead and Palmer brought the famed Irish course to her knees with booming drives which bisected the fairways and birdie putts of 20 and 30 feet.

Buc's Friend Blanks Cards On 8 Hits

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitcher Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates scattered eight hits Wednesday night and shut out the St. Louis Cardinals 5-0.

Friend fanned five and didn't walk a man in picking up his ninth victory of the year. He has lost three. Daryl Spencer got the only extra-base blow off Friend—a double in the second.

Dick Groat led the Pirates' 11-hit attack, bunting out four singles. Bill Virdon tripled and also socked a single for Pittsburgh.

The victory was the seventh straight at home for the Pirates.

The Cards' starting pitcher, Larry Jackson, was charged with his second straight defeat and now has a record of nine victories and seven defeats.

Tribe Win Over Nats

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ted Bowsfield limited the Washington Senators to five hits in pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 1-0 victory Wednesday night.

A first-inning run on a triple by Jim Piersall and a single by Harvey Kuenn gave the 24-year-old southpaw all he needed in winning his third game of the season. He has lost two.

The loser was starter Bill Fischer, who gave up five hits in the seven innings he worked. Truman Clevenger finished the mound duties for the Senators.

Washington got a runner as far as third base only in the sixth inning, when with one out Bowsfield walked Billy Gardner and Bob Allison and the runners advanced on a long fly to right field by Jim Lemon. Pete Whisenant hit a fly to Piersall in center field to end the threat.

Richards Was Two-Way Hurler

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP)—A. A. Scott looked back through the colorful years—to 1924 when the greatest winning streak in baseball history started.

It was set by a high school team, Waxahachie High, and it ran for 65 straight games into 1926.

"We had a streak of 13 going and were in Oklahoma playing Sapulpa," said the man who coached that great team. "A senior wanted to pitch and I let him. I could have taken him out and we would have won. But I didn't. After that, we went on for the 65."

This team beat colleges and professionals dressed down as amateurs.

Recalled
The accomplishments of those days were recalled when Paul Richards got his Baltimore Orioles up in the American League race. Richards played for Waxahachie.

They called him "Sleepy." He would play any position. Some days he pitched a game with both his left and his right arm.

"Once, we're playing a team that tried to outsmart us with switch hitters," recalled Scott, now a corporation court judge here. "I told Paul to go out there and pitch and wait until the batter committed himself. Paul didn't use any windup and threw a couple of innings with either arm and we won. Three times I used him in one week that way and he won all three games."

Richards injured his right arm one day and learned to throw with his left.

Art Shires, Belvedere Bean, Gene Moore and others known to professional baseball played on that team. Richards, of course, became a big league catcher and eventually managed the Chicago White Sox and Orioles. He was voted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame last year.

Scott is 77 years old but looks 50. His memory of that great team is clear and happy.

Police Protection Storm At Title Fight Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The storm about the crowd handling at Monday's heavyweight title fight continued Wednesday with statements from the police commissioner, the promoters and the boxing commission. The scrumming enhanced the chances of Los Angeles, Chicago or Dallas as possible sites for the third match.

Bill Fugazy, a director of Feature Sports, Inc., promoting its first fight, estimated the actual Polo Grounds crowd at 35,000, including 15,000 to 20,000 gate crashers. The paid attendance was announced at 31,802. Fugazy repeated earlier warnings that he would take the third match out of town unless Mayor Wagner intervenes.

Stephen Kennedy, New York police commissioner, who was blasted by Fugazy, replied in a telephone statement dictated to his office from Miami where he is on vacation.

Not Ushers

"The police of New York City will not be used as bouncers, ticket takers or ushers for prize fight promoters," it read. "The police function is to enforce public law

Dorney Park Cards Races Tomorrow

ALLENTOWN — Forty stock cars from New Jersey and Pennsylvania—unable to race due to rain on three occasions this year—will be at the one-fifth mile macadam track at Dorney Park, Allentown, Pa., this Friday night, 8:30 p.m., for a full schedule of events.

Producer Jerry Fried and Park Owner Bob Platt, in a joint statement, said: "The rains have kept our stock cars idle and the drivers can't wait to get into action. We are hoping that this Friday night our racing plant can get back into business."

The Dorney races, completely changed this year under a new management, will present seven events: Qualifying heats, consolation races, semi-final events, and a 25-lap feature event.

Eastonian Wins

In the official opening show two weeks ago the winner was Herb Frenchko, Easton, and two weeks before that in a show abbreviated by rain the winner was Larry Bowers, Hampton, N. J.

The oldtimers who raced at Dorney for many years are expected to return this Friday, including Cookie Hume, Buddy Decker and Smokey Dengler. Others in the field will be drivers from the Hatfield, Evergreen, Nazareth and Flemington, N. J., tracks, all driving strictly stock cars.

Under a new policy of admissions, adults will be admitted for 75 cents if they fear the advertisement out of local newspapers and bring it to the track.

Johansson In Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, the conquered heavyweight champion, arrived from New York Wednesday for a week's vacation in Florida.

He said he hasn't yet seen the films of his fight with Floyd Patterson and doesn't know when he'll get around to viewing them.

Asked if he might be reluctant to fight Patterson again within the contract period of 120 days because of the tax situation which could be created by two bouts in one year, he said he thought "something could be worked out."

The fighter will leave for Switzerland after vacationing here. He is a legal resident of Geneva.

South African Withdraws

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Bobby Locke of South Africa said Wednesday he has withdrawn from the British Open Golf Tournament starting July 4 at St. Andrews.

Locke, who has won the Open four times, said he did not feel that he had made a full enough recovery from severe injuries he suffered in an auto crash near Cape Town in February.

"There is no sense in my trying to do too much right now," he said.

The lowest 18 hole score ever shot in a PGA Championship at medal play was 65 by Jerry Barber, a 43-year-old club professional from Los Angeles, in the second round at Minneapolis Golf Club, St. Louis Park, Minn., in 1959.

Moore's Next Go At Toronto Postponed

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore's light heavyweight defense against Germany's Erich Schoepner, scheduled for Toronto to July 18, has been postponed to give the champ more time to pore down to the 175-pound limit.

Jack Fugazy, executive director of Feature Sports, Inc., which is co-promoting the match with Dave Rush of Toronto, announced the postponement after a conference with Jack Kearns, Moore's manager. He and Moore said a new date would be set in a few days. Later in Toronto, Rush said both fighters had agreed on Aug. 8, but the new date had to be cleared with the closed circuit television people.

At Denver, promoter Milt Willner said "we will have the (Liston-Foley) fight here July 18 as planned."

Kearns said Moore weighed about 195 pounds and couldn't possibly make the weight for the July 18 date. He weighed 206½ for a May 25 fight with Willie Besmanoff in Indianapolis. Moore is to get a $200,000 guarantee with an option on a percentage of the gate.

Long Feature At Nazareth Sunday

A 50-LAP feature event—longest of the 1960 season—with an increased purse for drivers will be featured this coming Sunday night, 8:15 o'clock, at the new calcumized track in the Nazareth, Pa., Fairgrounds.

Producer Jerry Fried announced that the winning modified-sportsman stock car driver this week will be paid $300—highest purse of the year; with the overall purse also being increased. No increase in admission price.

The show will be featuring drivers from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Florida, with last week's winner—Clark McLaughlin, Thorofare, N. J.—as a good bet to make a fast run for the big purse.

The chief challengers will probably include Al Tansady, Otto Harwi, Les Farley, Ken Wismer, Bobby Malzahn, Bill Deskevich, Dick Tobias, Frankie Schneider and several dozen others.

Sensational Win

The recent win scored by McLaughlin was one of the most sensational of the year. The New Jersey speedster is driving a new stock car this year and has made several attempts to crack the Nazareth track speed record.

The 50-lap feature—which totals 25 miles of a tough grind—will follow the hard-hitting qualifying and consolation events. There will be a minimum of 22 cars on the starting line for the big windup race.

Although he has won only once in 1960, Harwi continues to reign as the track point leader. He finished second to McLaughlin last Sunday and at times appeared ready to overtake the Jersey skipper. But, he never did.

Indianapolis Buys Gorman

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indianapolis of the American Assn. Wednesday purchased Tom Gorman, former major league pitcher, from the Dallas-Fort Worth club of the same circuit for an undisclosed sum.

The right-hander has a 4-5 record and 4.35 earned run average this season.
